

YOUR WORK-LIFE BENEFIT

Sometimes the demands of your job or commitments at home can make life seem out of harmony. Your work-life benefit can help with resources on parenting, caring for ageing relatives, legal and financial concerns, and more.

Our helpful representatives are available at any time, day or night, and can provide services to you in your preferred language. Let our work-life experts help you find the support you need.

SUPPORT IS AVAILABLE 24 HOURS PER DAY, 7 DAYS PER WEEK

Employee support is provided by Magellan Health Services, an organisation staffed by professionals who are completely independent of your employer. When you contact the service, the only information required from you is the name of your employer. Any additional information you share is at your discretion. Magellan Health Services is bound by professional standards regarding confidentiality and does not disclose details of individuals who have contacted the service.
